

Quality Solutions for Banks

We Speak the Banking Language.

The banking market is going through some dramatic changes, with banks having to deal with both industrialization and globalization. Most of these changes affect a bank's IT landscape. New concepts that break down traditional ways of thinking and value chains are needed to secure competitiveness and strengthen market position. Here, bank IT is a key factor. KORDOBA offers banks top quality standard software products with flexible adjustment possibilities, reliable operating concepts and effective consulting, so that these demands can be fulfilled.

Popular.

Thanks to its professionalism, reliability and innovativeness KORDOBA GmbH has an excellent image on the market. In order to maintain the high quality of the KORDOBA products and improve their efficiency, we are constantly developing and testing them together with our partners and customers. Global competitiveness is our short and medium-term goal; and we aim to achieve it by successively expanding our activities, especially within Europe and in other banking-related business segments.

Innovation Has a Long Tradition and a Big Future.

Modern software architecture leaves enough tolerance for banks' individual demands and varying strategic orientations. Due to our long-term customer agreements and the financial strength of our parent company Fidelity National Information Services, Inc. we can guarantee our customers investment security. Well-known banks in Germany and abroad have put their faith in the total banking system KORDOBA for over 25 years now.

Setting New Standards.

We Meet Demands Precisely.

The platform-independent solutions we have designed are state-of-the-art with regard to their multilayer architectural design and modern development methods. They can be operated on the market leading platforms. J2EE-compliant interfaces make it easy to integrate them into customer landscapes.

Our Work – Your Core.

The flexible core-banking system – KORDOBA CORE24 – unites perfected banking functionality with a modern architecture that makes it easy to integrate into varying system landscapes and enables individual parameterization in tune with the bank's needs.

The modern securities system – KORDOBA Global Securities – automatically executes the securities business processes of banking institutes from the consultant front-end through to order management and back office.

The complete end-to-end solution platform for controlling bank processes is an optimal tool with its accounting, controlling and reporting applications, regardless of the core banking system being used.

Our solution for authorization and self service network operation – K-GATE – is a highly available and high performance standard solution that encompasses all the functionalities required for authorization and self-service network operation.

The complete frontend for sales- and servicebanking – TouchPoint – includes CRM-modules, different channel-applications and an integration platform. This allows an efficient, consistent, informed communication across all delivery channels.

It is the Things You Don't See that Make Banks Great.

You Watch the Price. We Take Care of the Rest.

Companies are increasingly outsourcing the business processes that aren't part of their core competence to external service providers. We answer to our customers' demands for professional project management and definitive industry know-how with project-related consulting services and inexpensive outsourcing and operator models.

You Have the Requirements. We Have the Solutions.

KORDOBA Consulting encompasses platform-neutral process and IT consulting as well as change and program management. We help our customers design the banking and technical specifications and develop special installation strategies for innovative information technologies. Implementation and customizing are just as much a part of our range of services as is the implementation of migrations and integration tests. Our customers' corporate culture and expertise serve us as the basis for our consulting, from conception to successful implementation.

With our comprehensive operations and support concept, KORDOBA Outsourcing offers a professional full service – from maintenance to user support and application management, through to guaranteed service levels; and all this using the latest technological standards.

Simply More Service.

Our Strengths Bring us Together.

To us, undergoing partnerships means using synergy effects in our customers' own interests. KORDOBA works together with carefully selected and reliable partners. The special strengths of these national and international partner companies complement our service portfolio.

Dialogue is a Key at KORDOBA.

The perfect interplay of individual components results in an ideal whole. Our understanding of customer processes and the active and lasting collaboration with our customers is based on this principle. So our user banks have a major say in the further development of our standard products and services. Selected representatives of the KORDOBA users – the Speakers Group – and our product managers mutually define the commercial specifications for our development and combine their know-how to find new solutions.

Constant Dialogue.
